

Pluralism and tolerance hallmark of our civilization

President of India

New Delhi, India, 10.04.2016, 19:08 Time

USPA NEWS - New Delhi: President Pranab Mukherjee delivering the 1st Arjun Singh Memorial Lecture organized by the Arjun Singh Sadbhavna Foundation in New Delhi on Saturday. Former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh is also seen. PTI Photo by Vijay Verma.

India's Strength Lies In Her Diversity

The President of India, Mr. Pranab Mukherjee said pluralism and tolerance have been the hallmark of our civilization. India's strength lies in her diversity. He was delivering a memorial lecture at New Delhi on April 9, organized by the Arjun Singh Sadbhavna Foundation and the Madhya Pradesh Foundation in honour of late Shri Arjun Singh, former Union Minister.

The President said in a pluralistic democracy, it is important that the values of tolerance, respect for contrary views and patience are inculcated amongst the citizens particularly the youth. Pluralism and tolerance is a core philosophy that must continue undeterred. India is a multi-faceted nation of 1.3 billion people, 122 languages, 1600 dialects and 7 religions. This cannot be turned into fiction due to the whims and caprices of few individuals. Plurality of our society has come about through assimilation of ideas over centuries.

The multiplicity in culture, faith and language is what makes India special. We derive our strength from tolerance. It has been part of our collective consciousness for centuries. It has worked well for us and it is the only way it will work for us. There are divergent strands in public discourse. We may argue. We may not agree. But we cannot deny the essential prevalence of multiplicity of opinion. Otherwise, a fundamental character of our thought process will wither away.

The multiplicity in culture, faith and language is what makes India special. We derive our strength from tolerance. It has been part of our collective consciousness for centuries. It has worked well for us and it is the only way it will work for us. There are divergent strands in public discourse. We may argue. We may not agree. But we cannot deny the essential prevalence of multiplicity of opinion. Otherwise, a fundamental character of our thought process will wither away.

The President said democracy is not all about numbers but also calls for consensus building. A phenomenon seen in recent times is the way the common man is engaged with affairs of the nation. While we must wield no space to anarchy, efficient democratic machinery must have the means and wherewithal to absorb public opinion for formulation of sound policies.

Remembering Shri Arjun Singh, the President said Shri Arjun Singhji was one leader whose heart and mind was rooted to the ground. He never lost his simplicity to power, nor did he lose his concern for the common man. He dedicated himself to the building of a strong nation based on the values of secularism and democracy which he dearly cherished.

Pointing out Shri Arjun Singh's contribution in the field of education, the President said with over eight years, Arjun Singhji had the longest tenure as Human Resource Development Minister after Maulana Abul Kalam Azad. The education landscape in India naturally had a considerable imprint of the policies that Arjun Singhji had pursued.

Article online:

<https://www.uspa24.com/bericht-7638/pluralism-and-tolerance-hallmark-of-our-civilization.html>

Editorial office and responsibility:

V.i.S.d.P. & Sect. 6 MDStV (German Interstate Media Services Agreement): Doruvu Paul Jagan Babu

Exemption from liability:

The publisher shall assume no liability for the accuracy or completeness of the published report and is merely providing space for the submission of and access to third-party content. Liability for the content of a report lies solely with the author of such report. Doruvu Paul Jagan Babu

Editorial program service of General News Agency:

UPA United Press Agency LTD

483 Green Lanes

UK, London N13NV 4BS

contact (at) unitedpressagency.com

Official Federal Reg. No. 7442619